

GENDER PAY GAP REPORT 2018

Introduction

Kingdom Housing Association is a Registered Social Landlord which provides quality, affordable housing and a range of complimentary activities across East Central Scotland.

KHA employs approximately 170 people so is not obliged to report on its gender pay gap but we have chosen to do so as we believe it is the right thing to do.

This report provides the gender pay gap information as at April 2018.

Our Gender Pay Gap Figures

Note: No employees at Kingdom receive bonus payments.

Pay gap difference between men and women

The median (or “mid-point”) pay for a man remains unchanged from 2017 and is 10.1% higher than that for a woman,

The mean average pay for a man is 19.4% higher than that of a woman. That is a slight improvement from the 2017 difference of 20.2%,

These figures show the percentages of men and women in each quartile of pay in KHA, e.g. of those employees who earn the top 25% of pay in KHA, 50% are men, 50% are women.

Summary Results

- Compared with the previous year’s figures, we are largely seeing small reductions in our gender pay gap.
- There is a gender balance in the upper two quartiles in KHA which is positive
- The average earnings for a man is higher than the average earnings for a woman.
- Kingdom Housing Association employs more women than men.
- There is a majority of women in KHA in lower paid roles.
- Women are proportionally over represented in lower paid roles.

What we will do to address our gender pay gap

- We will continue to implement robust performance management, succession planning and talent management processes that, along with a structured management development programme, will afford women a clearer pathway into more senior roles than they currently have.
- We will consider if there are actions we could take to attract more people of a particular gender into roles where they are currently under represented.
- We will continue to develop our learning & development approach and address any barriers associated with women progressing into senior positions.
- We will undertake an audit of our recruitment and selection processes to ensure we do not favour a particular gender.
- We will assess the gender balance at particular levels, when recruiting posts and consider this when selecting the most appropriate recruitment route.
- We will consider methods for attracting applicants of a specific gender for roles where there is an existing gender imbalance.

Conclusion

This year's Gender Pay Gap Report has shown us that we are making some small progress in reducing our pay gap at Kingdom. We continue to strive to be a diverse and inclusive organisation and are hopeful that our plans will move us a little further towards that ambition. We remain conscious that there are no quick or easy solutions to the challenges we have identified but are committed to continuing to work at meeting them.
